

Toxic electronics being dumped illegally (NBC 2 Fort Myers)

Contributed by Webmaster
Sunday, 07 March 2010
Last Updated Sunday, 07 March 2010

More info...

Old electronics stripped of their valuable parts have been dumped on empty lots in Lee County. Many of the parts in those electronics are toxic to the environment.

Electronics

Toyota recall flap: US lawmakers seek data on electronics tests (The Christian Science Monitor via Yahoo! News)

Two members of Congress requested greater transparency from beleaguered Toyota Corp. on Friday, calling for the automaker to release information about its testing of electronic components.

Benchmark Electronics to buy back $100M in stock (AP via Yahoo! News)

Benchmark Electronics, which makes components for medical devices, computers, gauges and control gear, said Thursday that it will repurchase $100 million of its stock.

{mos_sb_discuss:2}